2. Guarantor Covenant

In consideration of the Landlord granting or continuing the tenancy of the Property, the Guarantor agrees as principal obligor and not merely as surety to perform the obligations set out in this document.

- to pay the rent and all other sums lawfully due under the tenancy within 14 days after written demand from the Landlord;
- to ensure observance and performance of the tenant covenants contained in the tenancy agreement;
- to indemnify the Landlord against losses, damage, and reasonably incurred enforcement costs arising from tenant default.

3. Nature of Liability

- Where there is more than one tenant, this guarantee applies on a joint and several basis to the obligations of each tenant and the tenancy as a whole.
- The Landlord may proceed directly against the Guarantor without first taking action against the Tenant, any deposit, or any other security.
- Any delay, indulgence, concession, acceptance of part payment, or failure by the Landlord to enforce promptly does not by itself release the Guarantor.

4. Continuing Guarantee, Renewal, and Variation

This guarantee is intended to continue for the tenancy, any statutory periodic continuation, and any renewal or written variation of the same tenancy for the same Property and substantially the same tenant group.

No material increase in the Guarantor's liability is intended to bind the Guarantor unless that increase is stated in this document or separately accepted by the Guarantor in writing.
