1. General

This tenancy is not a protected or statutory tenancy within the meaning of the Rent (Northern Ireland) Order 1978 as amended by the Private Tenancies (Northern Ireland) Order 2006. Other terms and conditions are a matter for landlord and tenant, subject to current law.

2. Repairs

The landlord must keep gas fittings, flues and installations in repair and provide required gas-safety information. Responsibility for other repairs is determined by the tenancy agreement and any applicable statutory default terms.

3. Access for repairs

The tenant must permit reasonable access for repairs or inspection. The landlord should give reasonable notice except in an emergency.

4. Fitness for human habitation

The landlord is responsible for ensuring the property is safe. The local council can advise on the applicable fitness standard and rent-control consequences.

5. Receipts

A private tenant has a legal right to a receipt for a cash payment. It should record the amount, date, purpose and any balance outstanding, or state that payment was made in full.

6. Notice to Quit

Except where a fixed-term tenancy ends as agreed, written notice must be given by the landlord or tenant to the other party. The current minimum periods are different for landlords and tenants:

Notice landlord must give tenant
Tenancy not more than 12 months	No less than 4 weeks' written notice
More than 12 months but not more than 10 years	No less than 8 weeks' written notice
More than 10 years	No less than 12 weeks' written notice
Notice tenant must give landlord
Tenancy not more than 10 years	No less than 4 weeks' written notice
More than 10 years	No less than 12 weeks' written notice

These are the current commenced periods. Proposed replacement periods under section 11 of the Private Tenancies Act (Northern Ireland) 2022 are not applied before commencement.

7. Illegal eviction and harassment

The landlord or anyone acting on the landlord's behalf must not harass the tenant or household, enter unlawfully, remove belongings or cut off essential services to force the tenant to leave.

8. Legal process for eviction

The tenant cannot be evicted until the landlord follows the correct legal process and obtains a possession order from the court.

9. Help with paying rent and rates

A tenant may be able to obtain help through Universal Credit, Discretionary Housing Payment, Rate Rebate or Housing Benefit, depending on eligibility.

10. Further advice

Contact the local council's environmental-health department, Housing Rights, Advice NI or a solicitor for independent advice.

Appendix 1 — Repairs

Where a tenancy granted after 1 April 2007 does not clearly allocate repair responsibility, statutory default terms may apply.

The landlord is generally responsible for

- the structure and exterior, including drains, gutters and external pipes;
- the interior other than matters for which the tenant is responsible;
- installations for water, gas, electricity and sanitation;
- appliances, fixtures, fittings and furnishings provided by the landlord;
- installations for heating and hot water; and
- common areas and access routes that the landlord is required to maintain.

The tenant is generally responsible for

- taking proper care of the property;
- repairing damage caused by the tenant, household or guests;
- keeping the interior in reasonable decorative order; and
- not altering the property without permission.

Review before signature. This populated notice is generated from the same validated agreement data as the tenancy agreement. The landlord or authorised agent must check it, sign it and give it to the tenant within the statutory deadline.
