Operative Provisions

1. Lodger House Rules Appendix

LICENCE FEE	£1500.00
-------------	----------

These house rules form part of the shared-home record and should sit alongside the room-let agreement and handover notes.

2. Guests, Quiet Hours, and Shared Facilities

- General shared-home note: No overnight guests without prior agreement.
- Guest and overnight guest expectations should be recorded clearly.
- Quiet hours should be agreed clearly.
- Kitchen, bathroom, laundry, food storage, and fridge use should be handled respectfully and in line with the shared-home routine.
- Smoking, vaping, alcohol, or drugs should follow the resident-landlord house policy and be dealt with promptly if an issue arises.

3. Cleaning, Storage, and Household Routine

- The resident landlord and lodger should understand the shared-space cleaning arrangement.
- Rubbish and recycling should be dealt with in line with the household arrangements.
- Food, fridge space, cupboards, and bathroom storage should be used in the way the resident landlord has recorded for the shared home.
- Any shared household expenses or consumables that sit outside the licence fee should be explained clearly and updated in writing if they change.

4. Security, Privacy, and Respectful Conduct

- Keys should be kept secure and returned at the end of the arrangement.
- The resident landlord should explain privacy and room-access expectations clearly as part of the shared-home arrangement.
- Respectful behaviour is expected in the room, shared areas, and around neighbours or other occupiers.
- The lodger should not interfere with safety equipment, building security, or access arrangements for the home.

5. Conflict Handling and End of Arrangement

- Issues should be raised promptly and a short written note kept where there is a dispute or repeated problem.
- The resident landlord may end the arrangement on notice, and serious misconduct may justify shorter notice where lawful and reasonable.
- At the end of the arrangement the lodger should return keys, clear the room, leave shared areas reasonably clean, and settle any unpaid licence fees or agreed shared charges.
- A forwarding address should be given if the resident landlord may need to send post-arrangement correspondence.

Execution

Store the appendix alongside the lodger agreement, checklist, and key handover record.
